This Month's Devotion

In Psalm 31, David cries out, "You are my rock and my fortress," reminding us that God is our safest refuge when life feels uncertain. Though David faced betrayal, fear, and weakness, he continually returned to the truth that his times were in God's hands. This psalm invites us to surrender our worries and trust that God holds both our present struggles and our future securely. When we rest in Him, we find the courage to endure and the peace that only His presence provides.

Concepts of Faith with Charles Capps

National Forgiveness and Happiness Day

As followers of Christ, we are called to forgive. Not because it's easy but because we have been forgiven first. Letting go of bitterness opens our hearts to the peace and happiness God desires for us. True happiness isn't found in holding grudges, but in embracing grace. When we forgive, we reflect Jesus' love and allow healing to begin. In others and ourselves. Take a moment today to release any burdens of unforgiveness. "Be kind and compassionate to one another, forgiving each other, just as in Christ God forgave you." — Ephesians 4:32 (NIV)
